San Jose State Frosh Ranked 'Below Average'

Legislative Report Indicates Math, Science Deficiencies

By GAYLE MONTGOMERY
Wire Editor

San Jose State freshmen students were hit hard in a report on state college academic standards prepared by the State Department of Education and made public yesterday.

"Newly enrolled freshman women students at SJS are down in the bottom quarter among college-bound high school graduates nationally in mathematics, science and social studies scoring," a legislative advisory commission on state colleges said.

The statement added that "New freshman men students at SJS scored lower in math, science and social studies than college-bound students nationwide."

The report showed that aptitude test scores of new students desiring teaching credentials were "considerably lower" than those of new students with no stated interest in teaching.

The survey, which came to light in legislative investigation of California schools, showed that the 1957 sophomore class at SJS scored above the national average in social science, humanities and natural science after completing one year of college.

Pres. John T. Wahlquist said yesterday the tests given "test what is learned from a common background, and not what is learned beyond common background." The president added, "I believe San Jose State students are superior to average college students across the nation because of our stiffer entrance requirements."

"Knowledge that students gain outside of common reading, English and math background as gained in California's progressive education is not reflected in the test scores."

In defense of teacher education departments of state colleges, Dr. William G. Sweeney, head of the Division of Education at SJS said:

"Students who complete the screening process in teacher education would show quite a different range in aptitude scores than a study based on those indicating their objective as teaching at the time they enter college."

SJS scored lowest on the nationwide level in math tests.

Court Votes $5 Fine Hike

Twenty-four student organizations face more stringent legal action this week following Student Court's decision yesterday to increase fines imposed upon first offenders to $5.

Second offenders will face a doubled fine. Three time losers may have their club charter revoked.

The decision was reached after the 24 organizations were charged by prosecuting attorney Milton von Damm with failure to complete the organization evaluation form sent out several weeks ago.

The form requires clubs to list current officers and the club constitution and by-laws.

The summonses, sent out yesterday, stated the amount of the fine and set a date when clubs may appear to plead not guilty. Chief Justice Dick Christiana said.

Europe Exchange Explained Tonight

A "community ambassadors" program under which qualified young men and women will live with families in foreign countries for two months will be explained tonight at 8 in CH149.

James Constance, representative of the Experiment in International Living, will speak at the meeting sponsored by the International Relations Club and the San Jose World Affairs Council.

Applications for the program are available in Dr. Raymond W. Stanley's office, CH229.

Deadline for submitting applications is April 3.

San Jose State male freshmen had 56 per cent above them in the nation's average. Women freshmen here were topped by 81 per cent of the nation's incoming freshmen in math and 84 per cent in social studies.

Dean Robert S. Martin denounced the statistics as "not entirely accurate, because many of the students who took the freshman entrance tests never attended SJS." Martin said that one generalization that can be made is "while incoming SJS students are lower in achievements than the national average, they are higher in aptitudes."

What is being done to alleviate the conditions?

Dr. Lowell Keith, head of the elementary education department, said yesterday "The college now maintains three clinics to offer

Group Asks Honor Code Opinions

One thousand students will be questioned today and tomorrow regarding their attitudes on taking exams under an honor code, in a survey headed by 21-year-old senior sociology major Vic Matson.

The six part questionnaire, to be handed out during classes, is the result of a 15-man group attempting to "sound out" the student body concerning an honor code.

According to Matson, "We are merely studying the possibilities and this questionnaire is not a 'do-or-die, we-must-have-the-honor-code' attitude."

Matson said the mechanics of the honor code have not been worked out and that at each of six schools a different method is used for making the code work.

Those schools are: University of Virginia, U.S. Military Academy, Stanford University, the University of Santa Clara and Mills College in Oakland.

"Our school trains students,"

Matson said, "to become responsible people in whatever work they plan to enter after graduation, and yet we are treated as children in the classroom by having the professors proctoring the exams."

"The blue book says one thing and in practice it is another," Matson continued. "If the honor system is adopted by the student body it would change the attitude in class from that of a professor standing over the students like a policeman to that of the students being responsible to themselves."

Soviets Say U.S. Delays Berlin Exit

MOSCOW (UPI)—Tass News Agency said last night President Eisenhower's qualified agreement to an East-West summit conference indicated the United States wished to "protract the occupation of Berlin for an indefinite time."

It was the first Soviet reaction to the President's Monday night speech.

Tass said the speech was made "to convince American public opinion of the legality of the stay of American troops in Western Berlin after the end of the war."

"In his speech Eisenhower did not refer to the concrete proposals made by the Soviet Union on the German question nor to the liquidation of the occupation status of Berlin," Tass said.

Tass said Eisenhower "tried to make out that the Soviet Union's peace-loving proposals on the Berlin question were a challenge to peace and U.S. security."

YALE ON PROBATION

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—Yale University authorities today followed up a general probation order affecting 3800 undergraduates with a campus-wide search for the ringleaders of the worst "town and gown" riot since 1919.

Pres. A. Whitney Griswold said a vigorous investigation was being launched "to determine individual responsibility" for two snowball riots last week, resulting in the arrest of 41 students. One of the riots marred New Haven's St. Patrick's Day parade.

'Dharma Bums' Discussion Today

Jack Kerouac, young author who gained fame last year with "On the Road," a novel of the beat generation, has now published a second explosive novel, "The Dharma Bums."

The moral tale will be discussed today by Richard J. Carey, librarian assistant, at the 12:30 p.m. book talk in Cafeteria rooms A and B.

The plot deals with two young men engaged in a passionate search for dharma, or truth, through teachings of Zen Buddhism. The novel is considered by many to have the same humor and zest for life that Kerouac's first best seller had which told the inside story of San Francisco's beat population.

Ex-Utah Chief Blasts U.N., 'Immoral' Aid

Former governor of Utah and income tax opponent J. Bracken Lee made quite a few blasts about quite a few things for a scattered audience of about 125 students yesterday in Morris Dailey Auditorium.

Lee, known as the man who wouldn't pay his income tax a few years back because it was being used for "immoral" purposes, had further swipes at the United Nations, congressmen who put relatives on payrolls, foreign aid and centralized power in government.

Lee, quizzed after his speech on his attitude toward the U.N., said "I will not support an organization that does not believe in God."

He said that the United States "can lose so much" by continued participation in the U.N.

The ex-governor encouraged students to think for themselves. He said: "This is the most perfect form of government in this world, but it is getting more powerful than it should because we, the people, are not using common sense."

"Washington now has unlimited power," Lee said. "For example, the Civil Defense Act allows the federal government to take over everything in this country—local governments, businesses, everything."

Lee blasted farmers' subsidies, as also "immoral." He said, "whenever something is taken from one person and given to another, it cannot be anything but immoral."

On foreign aid his remarks were: "We have lost 900 million people to the Communist cause since we started our vast foreign aid program."

Lee's talk was sponsored by Gavel and Rostrum and Young Republicans.

March Melodies To Begin at 8

Morris Dailey Auditorium will ring with the sound of women's voices tonight when 10 women's living groups compete in March Melodies at 8.

Each group will sing a medley of songs to fit a theme which each has chosen. The singers also will dress in keeping with the type of songs they will sing.

The winning house will receive a perpetual trophy, passed from winner to winner each year. In addition, three other awards will be given, according to chairmen Nina Carson and Cynthia Noble.

Bike Traffic, Racial Bias Reports Due

A racial discrimination report compiled by ASB Pres. Dick Robinson will be submitted to the Student Council today at 2:30 p.m. in the Student Union.

Robinson said he has received letters from all campus fraternities and that many have set up special committees to study discriminatory measures in their constitutions.

The council also will receive a report from the Campus Parking Committee by chairman Ron Earl.

Earl is expected to present a joint recommendation of faculty-student safety committees to remove present bicycle parking facilities to the streets bordering the campus.

The committee also plans to ask for a "no bicycle riding on campus" ruling by the council.

The May 23-24 student government weekend retreat to Asilomar, will be discussed by council members. Outgoing and newly elected ASB officers have planned a retreat to discuss student government problems.

Rally Head
Carolyn Sandell was appointed Rally Committee chairman for next year by the Student Council last week. She is a junior and outgoing head song leader.

Panel To Discuss Juvenile Agencies

Help available to juvenile delinquents is the topic of a Spartan Y panel today at 3:30 p.m. at the barbecue area next to the Women's Gym.

Four community officials will discuss agencies and services designed to prevent or control delinquency.

George House, vice principal of James Lick High School; Frank Bramhall, director of San Jose Recreation Department; Mrs. Rosemary Goodenough, representative of private service organizations; and Robert Eastman, senior deputy probation officer, will participate.

Rehabilitation of delinquent children and the college student's role in such work also will be discussed.

Anna Achterman, program chairman, will be panel moderator.

Art of Far East Discussed Tonight

"Life in the Arts of Japan, Hong Kong and Thailand" is the topic of an illustrated lecture by Warren Faus, assistant professor of art, tonight at 8 in TH55.

Faus resumed teaching at SJS this semester after spending several months in the Orient on his sabbatical leave. He said his lecture will include comments and observations on contemporary life in these places, and an emphasis on Japanese gardens and temples of Thailand.

Following Faus' lecture, refreshments will be served in the Art Department gallery. The lecture is open to the public. There is no admission charge.

"Ancient Egypt" an art film on life in Egypt, will be shown in the Music Bldg. Concert Hall tomorrow at 7 p.m.

The film is sponsored by the Humanities Club and is open to the public. Admission is free. Refreshments will follow in Cafeteria room B.

Soviets Had Better Take Ike's Advice

The President laid it on the line in a clear fashion during his speech to the nation Monday night.

We hope his talk will do one main thing: Tell Soviet Premier Khrushchev the United States means business and will go to war if necessary to protect the free world from communist aggression.

Speaking of the Berlin crisis, the President warned that Russians "should not miscalculate our strength... we have long-range missiles capable of reaching any target on earth."

In other words, Berlin will not be another Korea. It will be world war—if all other alternatives to peace fail.

Obvious to listeners was the fact that President Eisenhower has given these warnings before—that he has told the Soviets not to interfere with routes into West Germany.

But despite the undeniably great danger threatening the entire world, the Soviets have shown little more than their usual intransigence over the situation.

Khrushchev and his cronies are faced with two great problems in the German crisis. First, indications are that the East German Communist regime is becoming more unmanageable, oppressive and unpopular.

This poses quite a problem for the Soviets—for it's obvious to the West German residents that conditions are worse than theirs—just across the border.

Secondly, the Soviets are worried about a rearmament West Germany—a legitimate reason when you consider past German-Russian relations.

Undoubtedly, both Mr. Khrushchev and Mr. Eisenhower have placed themselves in dangerous positions by issuing their warnings.

While proposals and counterproposals for the solution to the Berlin crisis, if there is a solution, would even perplex an Acheson, much less a student, an adjustment must be found to eliminate the threat of war.

A war that could annihilate every living thing on earth.

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Gene Leek, 21-year-old third baseman of the University of Arizona baseball team, has signed with the Cleveland Indians for a reported bonus of between $30,000 and $40,000.

The 6-2 190-pounder from San Diego, inked with the Indians Monday to play with their Pacific Coast League team, the San Diego Padres.

Spartan Nine Faces Strong Hornet Team

With hopes of breaking a season record of 5-5 the San Jose State baseballers face Sacramento State on the Hornets' home diamond today at 3 p.m.

Scheduled to toil on the mound for the Spartans is righthander Bob Woods (0-0).

Baseball mentor Ed Sobczak stated the Hornets "appear to be a little stronger than last year." Last season SJS topped the Capital City crew in the two games in which the two clubs met.

The Spartans over the past weekend earned a split in two doubleheaders.

Monday the Spartan nine topped Fresno State Bulldogs, 4-1, behind the four hit pitching of southpaw Dick Holden (2-0). Holden struck out four while allowing only one free pass. The Spartans slammed out seven hits while committing two miscues. The Bulldogs booted the ball three times.

Right fielder Bill Nichols and catcher Don Christiansen led the hitting parade with two hits each. Both players slammed out one double for the only Spartan extra base blows.

In the second game the Spartans dropped a tight, 9-8, decision to the Bulldogs. Sophomore Joel Guthrie dropped his second game in as many starts. He was relieved in the first inning by southpaw Larry Williams as the resurging Bulldogs, slammed out six hits for seven runs in the initial frame.

Third baseman Jim Long, catcher Ted Coutts and rightfielder Emmett Lee accounted for the only extra base blows as each collected a double.

Lee had a total of three hits to top the Spartan hitters. Centerfielder Jim Pusateri and Williams slammed out two hits for the Spartans.

The locals collected a total of ten hits to the Bulldogs' eight. Each team committed two errors.

Saturday the Spartans dropped the opening game of a doubleheader, 1-0, to College of the Pacific, but came back to nab the nightcap, 15-7, behind an 18-hit attack.

Righthander Bill Leach evened his season record at 1-1 when he dropped the opener. Long collected a three bagger while Coutts and Pusateri hit for two baggers. The Spartans once again out-hit the opposition as they slammed out four hits to COP's two. Both clubs played errorless ball.

In the nightcap righthander Jon Holmquist received credit for his first victory of the season as he held the Tigers to eight hits. Nichols slammed out three hits along with teammate Pusateri. Pusateri had two doubles while Christiansen also cashed in with a double.

Golfers To Enter Calif. College Meet

A six-man team will represent San Jose State in the Northern California Intercollegiate golf tournament at the Pasatiempo golf course, Santa Cruz, March 26-28.

Ten linksters will enter the tourney, but only the low six will be named to the Spartan squad. The others will compete on an individual basis.

According to coach Walt McPherson this year's divot diggers are "a well balanced squad and any one of our six man team is capable of being the top man for us."

SJS' entry will be chosen from the following golfers: Jack Lucetti, Ron Ginn, Harvey Kohs, Dennis Palmer, Keith Rockwell, Linn Dunaway, Jim Sullivan, Skip Fisk, Andy Nottenkamper, Leonard Whitlock, Pete Marshall, Bob Stewart and Lou Schmitz.

DANISH FOLK DANCERS—A demonstration of gymnastic "grace and beauty" such as is pictured above will be displayed before the SJS student body tonight in Spartan Gym. Opening performance is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. Tickets for the Danish Men's and Women's Gymnastic show are available at the office in the Men's Gym. Prices of educats have been set at $1.50 for adults and $.90 for children and students. No student body cards will be honored for this event. The exhibition is being brought to SJS through the cooperation of Nils Bengtsson, the SJS athletic Dept., and Phi Epsilon Kappa, professional physical education fraternity.

Tennis Squad Meets Top Redlands Team

The SJS net squad will face its toughest test of the young season tomorrow in the form of the University of Redlands. The matches will be held on the Spartan courts at 2 p.m.

This season Redlands has taken the measure of a strong University of Southern California team which was NCAA champion last season. This feat alone has boosted the Redlands netters into contenders for this year's NCAA crown.

The Spartan racketmen, undefeated this year, are paced by one of the top players in collegiate ranks, Whitney Reed. Reed is fresh from capturing first place in the Peninsula Tennis Club Invitational last weekend. Coach Butch Krikorian will be counting on him for the impetus needed for a victory over the visiting Redlands team.

When questioned about the match Krikorian stated that he did not have a run-down on the Redlands squad man for man but that if Redlands has beaten USC, it must be tough. He indicated the Spartans would use the same line-up which has kept them undefeated so far. Krikorian stated "We have a lot of respect for Redlands, but we will go into the match with the same preparation and line-up we have been using."

SJS Net Team Nabs Decisive Win

Yesterday's results:

Bob Hill def. Paul Neumann (SC) 6-1, 6-2.

Bill Schaefer def. Al Clarkson (SC) 6-0, 6-1.

Nick Scharf def. Bill Regan (SC) 6-1, 6-3.

Bob Namba def. Bob Campbell (SC) 6-0, 6-2.

Doug Loomis def. Jerry Hankal (SC) 6-2, 6-2.

Jim Hankal (SC) def. Randy Binkley 4-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Doubles:

Hill-Schaefer def. Neumann-Clarkson (SC) 6-0, 6-2.

CSTA Plan Confab At Meeting Tonight

Plans for a Professional Problems Conference will be discussed at a California Student Teachers Assn. meeting tonight at 7 in TH.

The conference will be held Saturday on the San Francisco State College campus. Students from University of California, University of San Francisco, Dominican College and 12 other California colleges will participate.

Dr. Harold Hailer, associate professor of education, said conference discussion will center around public criticisms of the school system.

CSTA members also will hold nominations for officers at tonight's meeting, according to Vivian Hilts. All education majors and minors interested in CSTA may apply, Miss Hilts said.

Students unable to attend tonight's meeting who wish to attend the conference Saturday are asked to contact Miss Hilts at CYpress 2-9373.

Summer Jobs

Junior and senior engineering majors who want summer jobs, should apply immediately in the Placement Office, Adm234, stated Mrs. Phyllis Headland.

She added that many jobs require tests to be taken first.

Local summer job opportunities will be listed with the Placement Office beginning about May 1.

L&M is Low in tar

with More taste to it

Don't settle for one without the other!

"L&M is kindest to your taste because L&M combines the two essentials of modern smoking," says TV's Jack Lescaulie.

LOW TAR: L&M's patented filtering process adds extra filter fibers electrostatically, crosswise to the stream of smoke... makes L&M truly low in tar.
MORE TASTE: L&M's rich mixture of slow burning tobaccos brings you more exciting taste than any other cigarette.
